

The game dmg was created by making a disc image of an original DVD, and replacing the three game applications on it by versions that were cracked by Gamecracker401. I would have preferred crack patches, rather than pre-cracked versions of the games, in which case I would have provided an unchanged image of the DVD (for historical purity) along with the patches.